A new era! A new global partner for complete lines is born

The integration of Sacmi Beverage technologies into ACMI - the Italian company in Omnia Technologies portfolio designing advanced bottling and packaging equipment since 1984 - has led to the establishment of two new Business Units under the ACMI brand.

These stand alongside the Bottling and Packaging Systems Business Unit, dedicated to complete plants.

Main advantages

A new global player

The integration of Sacmi Beverage and Labelling technologies into ACMI, promoted by Omnia Technologies, has established a global player with 100% Made in Italy technology based in Parma – an area and a brand renowned worldwide for its food & beverage technologies.

What does this mean for you?

- A one-stop partner, from process to end-of-line – thanks to Group synergies
- The outstanding reputation of the ACMI brand
- Cutting-edge technology (recognized by all major international brands)
- Flexibility and tailor-made solutions
- Experience with complex projects (line engineering) with global references
- Sales and service platforms located worldwide
- High customer service standards
- Sustainable solutions – energy savings and environmental impact of materials

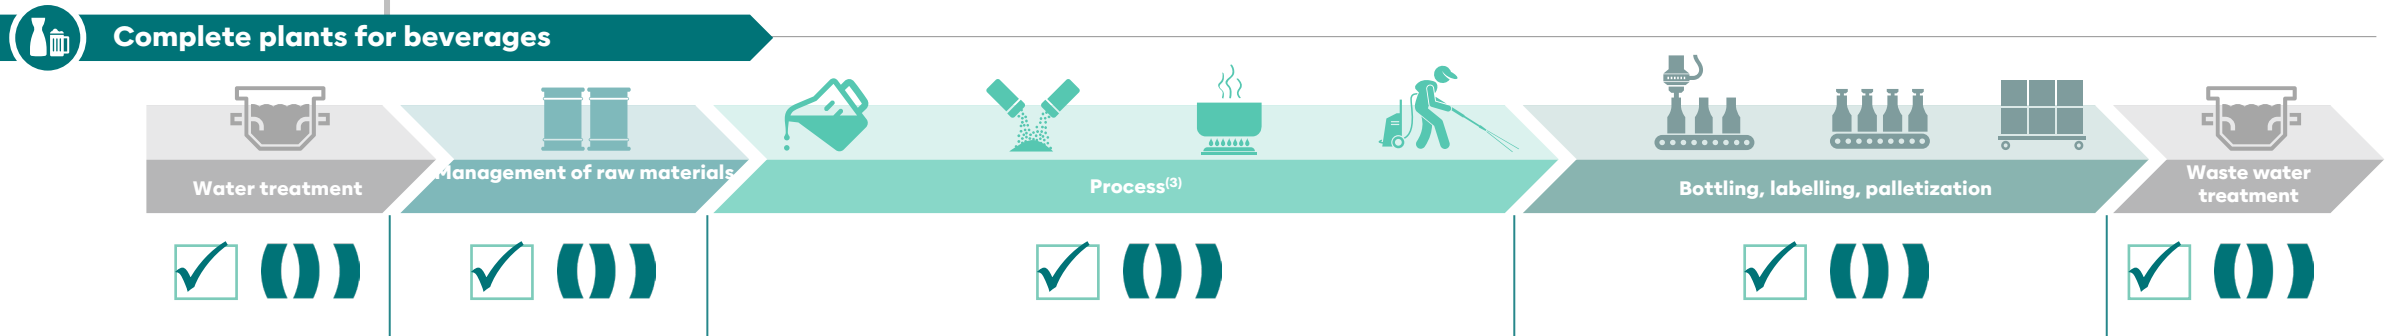

Integration with Omnia Technologies

The new Beverage Packaging division will also benefit from the integration of Omnia Technologies Group's processing expertise through an operational partnership with TMCI, Della Toffola, SAP Italia and Blendtec.

This allows the customer to rely on a single partner for every stage of production.

Moreover, the integration with Ave and Z-italia will enable the offering of solutions for low/medium speed segments and other markets such as wine, beer, distilled products and cosmetics.
